April was an exciting month with monsoon rains, flooding, sprinkled with some freezing cold days, and an earthquake. One of the first organized rides of the year Henderson's Tri-Fest and Howell Wetlands Earth Day Ride were plagued with rain which hurt attendance for the rides.

The International Mountain Bike Association and the Hoosier Mountain Bike Association Trail Building Seminar at New Harmonie State Park on April 19 was well attended. Approximately thirty people spent the day learning about trail building techniques on how to build a sustainable trail. After several hours in the classroom, the sky cleared and we headed out to the trail site to practice what we learned under the close supervision of IMBA and HMBA's leaders/trainers. About twenty volunteers and IDNR employees spent three hours working on the trail. Unfortunately, it started to rain again and we called it a day.

Sunday proved to be a much nicer day with warmer temperatures and sunny skies. Volunteers continued to build trails and learn new skills on how to take site readings and plan the trail layout. Ron Pendley is the driving force behind the trail building. All I can say is "WOW!" These trails are going to be awesome and I want to thank Mike Huffhand, President, and Paul Arlinghaus, Vice President, of the Hoosier Mountain Bike Association for getting IMBA to have this clinic in New Harmonie State Park and working to get some trails built in our area, and all their hard work.

To volunteer or find out more contact Ron, or visit his web site www.ronpendley.com

Anyone up for a two day ride from St. Louis to Evansville? We are talking double century. I received a request to help a local organization with a ride and training. Tim Martin, Director of Youthbuild in Evansville, has asked for the club's assistance in accompanying his group from St. Louis to Evansville on June 5 & 6. YouthBuild is an organization which helps young adults 16-24 complete their GED and learn skills and trades that will help them reach their potential and life goals. This sounds like an excellent way to help these young adults learn about cycling. Check them out www.evansvillehousing.org.

Tim Martin wrote, "We are leaving St. Louis on June 5. If anyone comes to help us we will provide room accommodations on Wednesday and Thursday evening. I would love for you to meet the group. The best times are Thursday mornings as our schedule has both teams at our 2110 S KY offices. We are going to begin some tune up rides on Fridays if anyone is available probably 8:30 or 9:00 we will ride 10-15 miles to begin."

If you have time and can help this group in any way please contact me or Tim Martin at Tim.Martin@evansvillehousing.org

Respectfully Submitted,

Darlene Wefel

New Denim/Chambray Shirt Order (and More!)

Shirts are being designed for Evansville Bicycle Club. These are 100% cotton shirts with full color embroidery of the club logo above the pocket area. Men's sizes range from Small to 4X-Large plus Tall sizes. You can order your shirts in long or short sleeves. Women's sizes range from X-small to 2X-Large with long sleeved, short sleeved, and sleeveless styles available.

You can check out the shirts online at: <http://www.sierrapacificapparel.com/denim-shirt-manufacturer.htm>. The anticipated cost per unit will vary based on type and size, but should be between $20 and $28 a shirt which includes embroidery. If interested, please contact Rusty Yeager at ryeager42@wowway.com

ALSO, the club has a new decal design and an order has been placed. It won't be long before we see the EBC logo on cars all over the tri-state.

"WURST" Notice

The date for this year's Wurst Ride ride is Saturday, May 17 at Burdette Park, next to the BMX track, starting at 9:30 a.m. (This event is already listing on the May 2007 Ride Calendar.)

Everything is free: the ride, drinks, fruit and, of course, the wurst. Lunch is served beginning at 11:00 a.m. at the Shelter House near the BMX track. There will be four routes to ride, all down in Union Township and in the hills west of Burdette Park. The shortest route is six miles. The routes can be combined for those who want more miles. All four routes total 32 miles with no overlaps. Maps and SAG support will be provided.

The whole purpose of the ride is to increase awareness of Burdette Park's Discovery Trail bike routes. Any experienced EBC cyclist should already be familiar with our routes, and they are encouraged to invite beginners and less experienced cyclists.

Notes from the Editor

Fellow bikers and friends,

In a past issue of the EBC BikeWriter I had brought forth an idea that has been discussed recently by the officers. This idea was to move the monthly newsletter to an electronic publication.

The plan is to send every member their issue of the newsletter to their e-mail inbox as a PDF file rather than through the mail. The newsletter will no look no different than it does right now, except it would have more color aspects to it, rather than a black and white photocopied version you have been receiving. (You will need to have Adobe Reader on your computer, which can be downloaded for free.)

Probably the biggest advantage of an electronic publication is the cost. Because e-mail is free, the cost associated with copying, assembling and mailing the newsletter can be re-distributed into other areas of the club.

Understanding that not everyone has an e-mail address and that some people would prefer a printed newsletter, we will provide you an opportunity to "OPT OUT" of the electronic option.

Starting in late-May, you should be receiving a personal phone call from an EBC officer asking you what your newsletter preference is. I am looking at July as the launching month. This will provide enough time to create the infrastructure to support this new e-mail format.

Lastly, I want to assure you that the printed version of the newsletter is not going away completely. We realize the importance that the newsletter has in promoting the organization to non-members. We will continue to produce a limited supply of newsletters to place in local bike shops, gyms, etc.

The weather is starting to take a turn for the better. Let's hit the pavement!

From One Rookie To Another

By Dan Krueger

Last month, I purchased a bike for my wife, Leandra, and insisted that we get clipless pedals. For sake of teaching, we got the same type of pedals so I could help her through the process of how they work. I don't know if they are the easiest for a new rider, but its all I know.

Being recognized as the 2007 Rookie of the Year is not something I take lightly. Whenever possible, I try to bestow the one or two trinkets of information that I have picked up from the guys who fly by me at Mach 10. How hard could it be to tackle clipless pedals?

Whenever possible, I try to bestow the one or two trinkets of information that I have picked up from the guys who fly by me at Mach 10.

Leandra went on her first EBC ride on a Tuesday night at I-164 & Olmstead. I took an "on-the-spot" crash course in how to adjust the tightness of her pedals as she was experiencing problems getting in and out. Eventually, I was able to get her to click in and out a few times and "somewhat" comfortable with locking in once she started moving. She found it most comfortable to have her right foot be the last to clip in when pedaling and the first to take out when stopping (this is important to remember).

We left about ten minutes before the main pack and approached the first stop sign where Olmstead Road meets Old Boonville Highway. I noticed an oncoming car and told her to start slowing down, but not to unclip. There was no traffic behind the car so we would be able to move once the car had passed. Once it was safe, I yelled out "CLEAR!" and started going forward.

I looked back to make sure Leandra was behind me and saw her on the ground. Apparently, she had freaked out a little bit and pulled her left foot out of her pedal. Upon doing so, she experience a small problem... she still leaned to the right. Well, gravity did the rest. She had a few scrapes on her leg and her ego may be slightly bruised, but at least she was laughing about it.

Rookies...

NEW PRIORITY BICYCLE SERVICE FOR EBC MEMBERS AT GILLES CYCLING & FITNESS

As avid cyclist ourselves we know how important it is to stay on a weekly riding / training schedule. We also understand what an inconvenience it is to have a mechanical problem and not be able to stick to our schedule because our bike is in the shop.

At Gilles Cycling and Fitness, we want to help the EBC club member stay on the road. There are two methods you, as a current EBC member, can use to receive priority bicycle service. Here is how the first option works, just bring your bike into the store, present your current EBC card and ask for the 48-hour priority service program on any of the adjustments listed below, we will have you back on the road within 48-hours.

- * Bar tape
- * Brake adjustments
- * Cables brake or derailleur
- * Derailleur adjustments
- * Derailleur hanger alignment
- * Headset adjustments
- * Tires / tubes replaced
- * Wheels trued or spoke replacements

The second way to receive priority service is to call ahead and make an appointment. This option is great if you would like to wait for a small repair to be done or for jobs requiring more time such as wheel rebuilding or complete bike overhauls. With this option we can have you back in the saddle and ready to ride in just a few hours. Of course if repair parts would need to be ordered, additional time would be required.

Gilles Cycling & Fitness wants to help you stay on your bike and obtain your 2008 fitness goals so stop by and try out the new EBC member priority service programs today.

Ride safe,
Gilles Cycling & Fitness

New EBC Website

The Evansville Bicycle Club has a new look and a new address. Jay Vercelotti, webmaster, gave details about the site.

"If a person is checking out the club, they will probably go to the website after picking up a newsletter somewhere or they will find us with a search engine," he said. "I want us to have a site where a new person can really see what we are about and the good works we do for the community. They should be able to see how the club affects each of us and how it would allow them to meet many interesting people from the Evansville area."

Jay is working hard to post cue sheets for every route. He realizes the importance of having a place where old and new riders can get routes printed.

Right now, the core structure of the site is ready for use, but Jay still has some plans to continue upgrading the site. For now, he has to prioritize what is needed and what is more of a "wish list" project.

"There's certainly much more to come and I will never consider the website finished," he concluded. "Every time I sit down at the computer to work on the site, I think of a dozen things that I want to do RIGHT NOW and somewhere along the line I have to set priorities."

Return to Dogtown: The Saturday morning rides return to the Dogtown Boatramp this month. With the way the weather has been this year, there's understandably some risk that the river bottoms will get flooded out again on one or more weekends in May. The level as of 4/20 is only a little over 20 feet and the point where our routes get flooded at Dogtown is about 38 feet. So, we will still move to Dogtown, but keep in mind that if the river is over 38 feet, then the ride will move back to Elite Fitness. Check the website for current updates and announcements. There's a link to the river levels there, too.

New Website Running: I'm really pleased to announce that the new website is up and running! Visit <http://www.evansvillebicycleclub.org> to check it out. It has everything the old site had plus much more, with plenty more still to come. I'll probably never consider it finished, but at some point I had to say that this was a good start. There's still a couple new pages left to be completed and I've still got to figure out how to implement some new features.

One important aspect about the website is that potential new members will probably check it out to get a feel for who we are and why they should join. With that in mind, I've added a newsletter archive that goes back to 2001. I remember being in that position years ago, and I would have read the old newsletters to help encourage me to join. I sat on the fence for months! There's also a greatly enhanced section of cue sheets and maps. Several members have been supplying me with turn listings of the routes and I'll be adding those to the site soon. All the century routes are already posted. I'd like more routes, but please email first because I have about 8 right now that just aren't posted yet and I don't want anyone to spend time needlessly.

What Do You Love About the EBC?: I'd like some snippets from everyone that briefly tell why you love riding with us — maybe a sentence or two. I'll post those on the website. Also, if you have pictures of anything EBC-related that might be useful on the site, I'd like those too.

Sunday Afternoon Rides: The Olmstead route on Sunday afternoon moves back to 3:30 PM this month. It will stay that way through the end of September.

Get out there and ride — any distance at any speed. Just be sure to enjoy yourself along the way.
