Darlene Wefel - EBC President

Where has this year gone? Only two more months to complete your goals and then the new year will begin. What surprises will it bring with it?

October was a fantastic month for cycling with great weather for the pre-pumpkin ride and the Great Pumpkin Metric. I remember many early mornings at the Swine Barn with temperatures near freezing and all of us bundled up trying to stay warm. Usually we have some very cool or down right cold days in October. Not this year! Today, Jane and I rode to the afternoon ride at Olmstead and the temperature was in the mid-60's. We both had cycling shorts and I was brave and wore a short sleeved shirt. Perfect weather for cycling. We need to take advantage of every warm day. They won't last much longer.

We will have election of officers in just a few months. I know there are many talented people in our club and some of you may be shy about stepping forward and seeking a position. Please let any of the officers know if you are interested in running for a position.

Dan is stepping down as newsletter editor and has volunteered to be the GPM Coordinator for 2009. We will be in need of a new editor for the newsletter. I know it's a tough job compiling articles, coming up with articles to fill the pages, and on rare occasions having to hold some of the submissions. We need your help.

I want to thank Linda for organizing the GPM this year. She spent a lot of time pulling it all together to make this year successful. It's a hard and thankless job. We could not do it without a leader. My thanks does not end there. This club owes so much to Rusty & Laura Yeager, Gary Gardner, Mark Oliver, Ronnie Lee, Ann Pendley, Dave & Vicky Ashworth and their crew, The Beis Family, Cindy Jones and her crew, and Jay Vercellotti and all his sag drivers.

Respectfully Submitted,

Darlene Wefel

2009 GREAT PUMPKIN METRIC LOOKING BACK AND AHEAD...

By Linda Clemmer and Dan Krueger

Looking BACK....

From what I had heard, the 2008 Great Pumpkin Metric was a smooth ride. Unfortunately, some work obligations kept me from being there, but I have heard nothing but good things about the ride.

A big thank you should be given to Linda Clemmer for all of her work during this time. Additionally, the volunteers that helped in preparation and execution of the event was an important facet of the ride. Linda and everyone who helped should be commended for their efforts.

Once everything is tallied, I am sure there will be a report for next month's newsletter.

Looking AHEAD...

Next year, the GPM Coordinator will be Dan Krueger. He has already started thinking about next year and the first thing he wishes to do is get a committee of four EBC members to start discussing some ideas and goals for next year. Ideally, Dan is hoping to find some people who are NOT officers to get some fresh ideas. Linda Clemmer has already agreed to work with the committee in an advisory capacity.

There will be some work involved and a few meetings between now and October 2009. There will be a gathering sometime in December (based on schedules) to talk about:

- Event Goals (attendance, sponsors, etc)
- Theme/Branding for the event
- New Ideas

Please contact Dan Krueger at yesman1000@hotmail.com or (812) 306-1343 to get more information or get involved.

NOTES FROM THE EDITOR

Fellow bikers and friends,

I plan on keeping this report short because I have some other areas that I will be reporting.

I'm not really sure how well the rumor mill/grapevine works among the club members, but you may have heard that I will be stepping down as the editor of EBC Bike Writer at the end of the year. I'll complete my run with the December issue and then start moving on to some other things. That said, the EBC will be looking for someone to take over as the editor. I know one project that has been in the works, but never completed, we the transfer of this publication to a PDF/electronic format.

Please let myself or Darlene know if you are interested. I won't lie and say that it's easy. It's isn't difficult and does not require a lot of time, but some monthly effort will be required. I would be more than happy to help with the transition.

Dan Krueger
EBC BikeWriter Editor

POKER RUN ON BICYCLES / OKTOBERKEST SESSER CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

By Darlene Wefel

Four couples from Evansville, Newburgh, Elberfeld and Boonville, set off for a weekend at Rend Lake in Illinois. Rend Lake has much to offer for the outdoors enthusiast. Over the weekend, we enjoyed a variety of sport activities which included fishing, canoeing, hiking and cycling. Additionally, there was great food, beverages and sitting around the campfire sharing and weaving tales.

The main focus of this trip was the Poker Run since none of us has done this on a bicycle. On Saturday October 11th, Greg & Cinda Alexander, Randy & Linda Cleek, and Bob & Darlene Wefel set off on the 4th annual bicycle poker run. It was a flat course that went through the country side with signs marking the route at intersections. We stopped at Wilma & Erma's Convenient Store to obtain our first token, then off to Rend Lake Marina for the second. The final token was located at Rend Lake RV Sales. After all three tokens were collected, we headed back to Sesser for the drawing of the cards. Approximately 40 riders had a chance at half pot of the entry fee for a nice prize of $100. When we arrived, the top hand to beat was a straight. We all must be lucky in love, because the best we could do was a pair of 8's.

We found several things unusual about this ride. First, and most obvious to us, was that no helmets were required. We were the exception to the norm. I believe that I saw about four other people wearing helmets. The route was supposed to include the wonderful bike path that runs around the lake, but the route was changed due to a youth hunting event. We did not want to be mistaken for a deer or used as target practice.

We enjoyed our lunch at the Oktoberfest. I had the best curly fries I have ever had. I think we will make this an annual event.

Let's put this on our ride schedule for next year.

EBC NEWSLETTER GOING ELECTRONIC

There have been some delays in the transition of a print newsletter to an electronic newsletter.

The EBC appreciate your patience and will get the new format out as soon as possible.

24-HOUR (ALMOST) BIKE RIDE

By Dan Krueger

On Saturday, October 11, I took off on one of my greatest challenges to date. A 24-hour bike ride which was being done to raise money for my fraternity's foundation. The plan was to go midnight to midnight. You can read about the full story at <http://sinfonia-alumni.blogspot.com/2008/10/24-hour-bike-ride-for-leadership.html>. Here are a few highlights:

To cut to the chase, I didn't complete the ride. I threw in the towel at 8:00 pm or 20 hours from the time that I started. There is a couple of reasons for this, which I will talk about now.

Mileage

While I didn't go 24 hours, I did meet my mileage goal. My incorrect math had me completing the 75 mile loop three times over the course of the ride for a total of 225 miles. I was at 220.5 miles with four hours to go... and I was running on fumes.

I was hoping to complete a lap every eight hours. I figured a nice and leisurely pace, accompanied with regular rest stops would help even things out. The problem was that I was unable to see my speedometer in the dark. By the time, I got to the end of the second lap, I was already two hours ahead of schedule.

Physical Wear

The third time through the loop I started to feel some pain in my feet. I was able to shake it off at a rest stop, but I started to get the notion in my head that my time was running short. Additionally, I had been dealing with a cold the last couple of days. I didn't sleep well the night before and I knew I might experience some difficulty breathing. I had been taking some stuff to clear it up (which was working), but I went for a span of about nine hours without a support vehicle and I didn't grab the antihistamine beforehand.

The Fall Festival

To me, the Fall Festival is a reason for a bunch of people to gather in one area where they can eat greasy food and drink. The idea of being on the road at the same time as some of the village idiots who shouldn't be driving didn't sit well with me.

A few things I learned from this ride:

Eat and drink -Whatever combination of food and fluids I was taking kept me from cramping. A couple of PowerBar Harvest bars, pretzels, bananas, homemade protein bars along with a 6-inch turkey sub from Subway and plenty of Gatorade made up my intake.

Skunks suck - One ran across my path early on. I saw him in my light and I stopped dead in my tracks. Once he moved across the road I sprinted ahead just in case he had second thoughts. There was no way I would have been able to deal with getting "skunked" and smelling it the rest of the day.

THE TRAIL JUNKIE NORTH SHORE CENTURY

By Charlie Miller

On September 21st, I traveled to Evanston, Illinois, to take part in the Evanston Bicycle Club's North Shore Century. Evanston, a suburb of Chicago, is located on the shore of Lake Michigan and is the home of Northwestern University. I knew this ride would be flat and I wanted to try for another century, so I headed to the ride start before daybreak. A light fog accompanied the predawn darkness and the daybreak was slightly overcast when I arrived at ride headquarters.

The ride began at Dawes Park, located on Lake Michigan's shore. There were plenty of early morning riders for the century so I knew I would have a lot of company. Leaving the park we headed north, which took us right through Northwestern's campus. There are some amazing buildings and homes in the neighborhood as we road inland from the lake.

The first rest stop was at 18 miles in Lake Forest's Northcroft Park. It was well stocked with all kinds of goodies ranging from fruit to home baked cakes and cookies. The rest stop was in a park pavilion that had a fire crackling in the fireplace. They had marshmallows and toasting sticks for anyone who was inclined to give it a try. I thought that was a fun idea for a bike ride.

Night riding is fun - There is something about night riding that is exhilarating. Depending on other senses other than your eyes makes the ride more exciting. Of course things you take for granted in the light (deer, potholes, roadkill and downhill runs) make you a little more on guard. It's also nice because you know when a car is coming up behind you...assuming they have their lights on. This brings me to my next point.

Night riding with lights is not fun - A car has two front lights. My bike had two front lights. A car has a windshield and an overall frame to protect drivers from being pelted continuously by bugs. I didn't. People can open their mouths to talk/sing/eat/drink when driving at night. I could have been competing in Fear Factor to see how many bugs I could swallow iPods are nice - My wife has an iPod Shuffle which we loaded music onto. While I wouldn't normally listen to music while riding, it was a nice diversion to keep my mind of other stuff.

At the first rest stop, the century route split from the shorter routes and continued to head north. The route took us on secondary roads with lighter traffic but this close to Chicago there was still plenty of cars to contend with. At 33 miles, we came into the town of Gurnee, and Mike's Bikes for the second rest stop. Still heading north we crossed the state line into Wisconsin. At 50 miles, we came to the lunch stop at Lincoln Park in Kenosha, WI. We were treated to sandwiches and potato soup. I understand the lunch is a ride tradition.

This was as far north that we rode on the century, but before we began the return leg we also rode through Kenosha's Washington Park. This park is home to the oldest Velodrome in the U.S. There was a racer being paced by a motorcycle as we stopped for a look.

The return leg took us south along the lakeshore and some very scenic views. Kenosha has a picturesque harbor area and lots of sand dunes. We continued south along the shoreline riding through little lake front towns and villages until we came to the fourth rest stop at Jack Benny park in Waukegan, IL. Waukegan is the hometown of Jack Benny. It has a deep-water harbor to allow large cargo ships to enter the bay. I took some time to watch a large Gypsum Boat enter the harbor. It was fascinating to watch this huge boat piloted through a narrow canal to unload its cargo.

There was one final rest stop at 86 miles in Maraine Park. By the time I arrived, they were closing up and water or Gatorade were the only offerings. The final fifteen miles went through a neighborhood with some amazing homes. There were huge stone and brick structures that only the very wealthy could afford. I remember saying, "wow" as I road past each one. I couldn't help wonder who could afford such magnificence. At 105 miles, the ride ended back at Dawes Park with live music and ice cream.

Saturday Morning Rides: We move back to Elite Fitness for the Saturday morning rides in November. This will last through April.

Hosted Rides: There are 2 hosted rides this month. First, on November 16, there's Ashley's Menagerie — an annual ride that always has a different name. Also, there's Mark & Debbie Oliver's annual Pumpkin Pie Ride on November 22. Will Jason Lee return to Evansville this year just for excess pie? We will just have to wait and see.

To assist members in identifying when their membership has expired, memberships that are 3 months or more overdue are listed separately below. Those that are only 1 or 2 months expired are included in the normal roster above. Previously, these names were simply excluded from the listing without explanation. Mileage for former members that have participated in rides in 2008, but whose membership expired prior to January 2008 are not included in the normal roster or the expired listing below.

FYI – Regardless of whether your membership is current or not all miles documented on the individual ride sheets are entered into the system. In other words, even if your membership is several months overdue, I still keep track of your miles so that if you renew your membership all of your miles for the year are credited.
